Our Next President

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The great interest taken in the Presidential contest apparently caused little thought of the election of a County Board of Education for Crittenden county. In that contest each voter was allowed five votes, one vote on each of five candidates out of seven on the ballot. Leaving out the vote of Judge Perry, present which was not available at time of going to press, the vote cast for the seven candidates are as follows: The five candidates having the five largest number of votes when full returns are in being elected.

THE SPIRIT OF HALLOWEEN

In olden times Halloween was supposed to be the night of all nights when supernatural agents, especially those of evil design, were abroad in the land.

The same spirit on these yearly occasions holds good, even in these enlightened days and nothing short of murder or horse stealing is more what reluctantly considered. Such little matters as carrying off gates etc., by Halloween celebrators are expected and tolerated. It is but the spirit of Halloween.

This Halloween spirit seems to have been out in full blast in Marion Saturday night. Many a fire was torn down and placed at another building. Back away. Back of fence belonging to Cochran & Co. were scattered all over town. William's grocery sign was placed at the residence of J. N. Hinton. A "one mile to Marion" sign was displayed at the Presbyterian church. A farm wagon was taken to pieces, taken to the court house hall and put together again, etc. Such is the spirit of Halloween.

WAS HE BELIEVED?

Mr. J. C. Elder, deputy county clerk, is not, in a general way, easily bluffed. He is also a man who believes in keeping his feet on the ground. He was called to the court house to give up his old-fashioned high-top boots for the more modern shoe. It happened recently that Mr. Elder was in need of new covering for his feet and wrote to his shoe maker asking him what he could make him a pair of boots for. "Just like these I used to wear and paid $12 for." In a few days he received an answer from his shoe maker stating that he could make him a pair of boots like the one in demand for $117. Mr. Elder is now wearing a new pair of shoes.

STRAND THEATRE

The Strand Theatre under the management of Messrs. Canally and Vaughn, has become a place of real entertainment. It is a place where one can pass a pleasant evening and see first class shows, such as are seen in the big cities. For the first time in the history of Marion such movie stars as Mary Pickford, Billy Burke, William Hart and others may be seen upon the screen. Under the present management a great improvement has been made, both in the quality of the shows and the size of the audience, as Mr. Canally knows the value of publicity.

THE $150,000 BOND ISSUE

In accordance with Section 11, Chapter 159 of the Acts of 1920, known as the new bond law, the Crittenden county fiscal court at its last session authorized the issuing of $150,000 bond issue voted in this county for the purpose of building roads and bridges, to the State Highway Commission, the same to be reimbursed by the State at the completion of the project.

The fiscal court in a number of other counties in the state have also authorized the issuing of bonds to the State and at a matter of testing the validity of the law a suit was brought in Hopkins county, in the case of J. R. Bush vs. W. W. Cook, County Judge et al, wherein a temporary injunction was brought against the County Judge of that county from making the loan of $150,000 to the State Highway Commission. The Court of Appeals sustained the temporary injunction and the hearing of the bonds to the State is held up until the Court of Appeals can take action on a permanent injunction.

THE M. H. CANNAN CO.

In their new building on Carlisle street, the M. H. Cannan Co. have one of the most modern and best arranged stores in this part of the state. Their show window, whose style is something new in Marion, is artistically arranged with a hand-some display of their new goods. A complete change of goods displayed in the show case is made each day. To the customers it is a pleasure to see the well-contrived dust-proof cases all over the store filled with hats, caps, and all kinds of goods, made secure from damage by dust. These up to date merchants know the value of advertising as a means of letting the people know what they have for sale. When in the city shopping it would be well to call at the M. H. Cannan Co.'s store.

FOSTER & TUCKER

We call the attention of our farmer readers to the firm of Foster & Tucker. They are dealers in the celebrated Harford Tractor. See their ad in another page for a description of this machine. When in town call at their garage on Salem street.

C. G. THOMPSON, INS. AGENCY

The C. G. Thompson Insurance Agency is the growing agency. It grows because Mr. Thompson treats the people right, because he knows the value of printer's ink and because he represents the Harford, one of the oldest and strongest insurance companies in the country. See his ad elsewhere.

HEMORS WERE FALSE

It was rumored in Marion for several days this week that Mr. A. H. Harlock, the aviator who gave aviation to the public here a few weeks ago, had met with an accident while flying his machine in Western or Indian county, resulting in a fatal injury to himself and a couple of passengers. Mr. C. L. Canally of the Strand Theatre investigated the rumors and reports that they can not be confirmed and thinks that nothing of the kind happened.

LATEST NEWS FROM NEIGHBORING COUNTIES

The Obit Record of last week stated that John C. Halsey, attorney-at-law, practiced in all the courts and kept old papers for sale.

The body of John Day, 42 years old, residing a few miles from Whiteburg, was found with bullet holes through it. It is thought he had been robbed and afterward murdered.

Mary Helen Ramage, 7 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ramage of Madisonville, was the prize of $5, for being the fattest baby at the fair Saturday. The baby weighed 27 pounds.

Stealing is not always stealing, according to a decision in a Webster county court. The case against Guy Jones and Wm. Hawkes, colored, charged with stealing corn the court sustained the contention of the defense that going into a field and taking corn from the stalk and removing it where the transaction was continuous, was not petit larceny under the law. A growing crop, it was held, is a part of the real estate. The case was dismissed.

WOMANS CLUB TO MEET

An open meeting of the Woman's Club will be given for the men and women of Marion at the home of Mrs. S. M. Jenkins on Friday evening, Nov. 12, 1920 at 7:30.

An interesting program will be given including an address of historical nature, by Mrs. Martha Powell of the Woman's Club of Paducah. Many historical relics of Crittenden county will be on display.

MARION HARDWARE CO.

Besides their varied stock of general hardware and implements, this firm is now pushing their Charter Oak heating stove.

Mr. Joiner says this stove will heat the whole house for you and will consume far less coal than if you try to keep warm with grates. It is very moderately priced too.

GIVENS RESTAURANT

When you see the sign, "Givens Restaurant" it makes you think of something good to eat. You can always find it there and it is served in the best of style. Mr. Givens is doing a good business and he knows just how to bring business to him through the use of printer's ink. See his ad on another page.

CRIDER & WOODS CO.

When you see the name of Crider & Woods you know at once that it stands for fire insurance. It is an old firm and well known to our readers, as they know the value of advertising. Miss Nellie Walker and C. W. Lamb conduct the business and would be glad to see any one who is in need of fire insurance.

Mrs. F. A. Davis of Whittier, Cal., who, after an absence of 37 years, has been visiting her friends and relatives in this county, left for home Saturday. Enroute she will also visit friends in Missouri and Oklahoma.

RE-ELECTED TO THE SENATE.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham

H. C. CARNAHAN

You can always find anything you want at the big dry goods store of H. C. Carnahan, on the corner of Main and Salem Streets. Mr. Carnahan's motto is "Not satisfied till you are." You can not be otherwise than pleased with his big stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats, etc. Both in the quality and the price. Customers are always assured courteous treatment. Besides Mr. Carnahan there are Mr. D. E. Gorman, Mr. John Wilborn and Mrs. Pope always ready to show you their goods. Mr. Carnahan is an up to date merchant knowing the value of advertising. Both city and out-of-town shoppers would do well to call at the store on corner of Main and Salem Streets.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, before selling your poultry and eggs, will pay the highest market price for all kinds of poultry. Bring your turkeys to me.

FORDSON

TRADE MARK

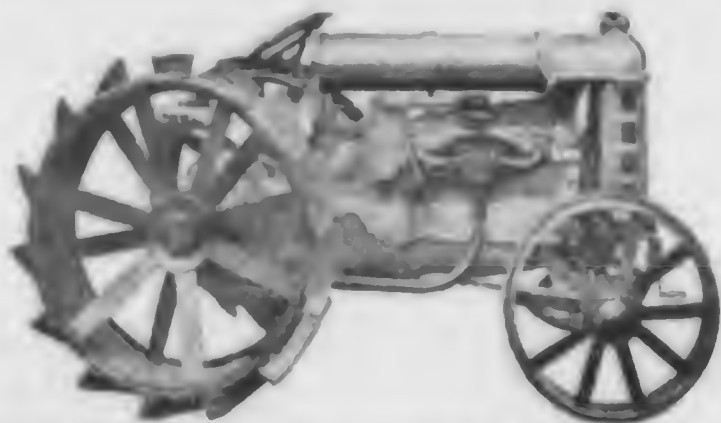

There is every reason in the world why every farmer should buy a Fordson Tractor, while there is not a single reason in the world why a farmer should not buy a Fordson Tractor.

In the claims we make for the Fordson Tractor as being the superior farm tractor, there is nothing of boasting. Our claims are based upon demonstrated facts. In every possible test that has been made (and we don't believe in any make-up or technical tests) but in the real, common sense work on the farm—the work the tractor was intended to accomplish—we say, in all such tests the Fordson has stood head and shoulders above all competing tractors. And this is best proved in the fact that while there are about three hundred thousand farm tractors in use in the United States today, and while tractors have been sold to farmers in twenty years, and while the Fordson tractor has only been in the market two years, more than one-third of all the tractors in use in the United States are Fordson tractors.

Now you can't quarrel with that. You can't back away from an established truth, and there it is—out of three hundred thousand tractors, one hundred thousand are Fordsons, and there are probably some fifty different makes of tractors on the market. Just let your common sense consider these facts. "Facts are not plucked from the air; they are facts from their truth."

The Fordson tractor has the necessary power. It is economical in operation. It is flexible in control and operation. It is simple in design, and it is sturdy built of the best iron and steel. It is the product of the genius of Henry Ford, and it wasn't placed on the market until Henry Ford had tested it, and tested it, and tested it, before he asked the farmers to buy it. It is no fair to say that in the Fordson tractor Henry Ford has given to mankind one of the greatest benefits which has ever come to mankind.

Now we select every farmer to buy one or more Fordsons. Come in and see them. Come in and let us tell you more than we can in an advertisement. Let us demonstrate to you. Let us put it to every test that you wish. The tractor is just as necessary for the farmer as water is to the house. Come in! Look over the Fordson. Test it. Don't take any chances. Don't experiment. Supply your farm with the tractor at established value.

Illinois Central's 1920 Bill For New Equipment Totals $27,109,768

The railroads of the United States have not been able to move promptly all the traffic offered, and business has suffered. This condition has been caused, very largely, by a lack of locomotives and cars. The railroads are not to blame. For a decade preceding the war an anti-railroad spirit prevented the levying of rates which would guarantee an investment return sufficient to attract capital for financing the purchasing of adequate equipment, and during Federal control equipment purchased fell far short of the average of the preceding years.

Now that the railroads have been returned to the control of their owners and more adequate rates have been awarded, the purchase of equipment has increased greatly. The Illinois Central has placed orders to date for locomotives and cars which will cost $27,109,768. The purchases include:

150 Locomotives	20 Suburban Coaches
2150 Coal Cars	12 Compartment Coaches
1000 Refrigerator Cars	18 Baggage Cars
500 Stock Cars	5 Dining Cars
300 Box Cars	50 Caboose Cars
200 Flat Cars

A part of this equipment has been received. Further deliveries are under way, and will be kept up for a period of twelve months.

The 150 locomotives cost $11,809,675. One hundred are for freight service and are 40 per cent larger in tractive power than now in general use on our lines. Twenty-five are for passenger service and twenty-five are for switch service. Their delivery will begin this month and will be completed early next year.

The 1,150 freight cars cost $17,471,000. We have reserved 1,500 coal cars. The delivery of the remainder has begun and will extend over a period of twelve months.

The fifty-five cars for passenger train service cost $1,676,193. They will be delivered during the first three months of next year.

The 100 baggage cars cost $150,000. Nineteen have been delivered—the balance will be ready January 1st.

In addition to the amount expended for new equipment, the Illinois Central System has appropriated $8,000,000 since the return of its property for enlargement of roadway facilities. Much of this work is under way.

While the growth of the Illinois Central System may not have kept pace with the growth of business in the territory served by it, that has not stood still is evidenced by the fact that during the past ten years it has expended $169,279,178 for additions and betterments to its property.

Your attention is invited to these figures as testimony that our first consideration is service to the public.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

HISTORICAL SKETCHES

Of the Early Days Of Crittenden County

Written for the Press by R. C. Haynes

THE HANGING OF THORN WALLINGFORD

It is always pleasant to look upon the bright side of a picture than upon the dark side. The writer of these historical sketches would rather portray the happy scenes of life than the general and the tragic. He would rather cause his readers to smile than to frown, yet if one picks up a history of the world, either ancient or modern, he finds it to be little less than a record of killing and hanging and beheading. Since, by an edit of the daytimes and an annotation King Alexander at the behest of the good and very patriotic Queen Esther, the wicked Haman was swung up as high as the neck, that neck of execution and did work for the public. "Thorn" Wallingford, though descended from a good and respected family, was generally looked upon by his neighbors with disfavor, though no crime had heretofore been charged against him. Added to his other shortcomings as a citizen and a husband, he was unfortunately addicted to the immoderate use of strong drink, which it seems more than anything else led to the brutal crime for which he suffered the extreme penalty of the law. He seems to have been so constituted that when under the influence of liquor he was entirely deprived of reason, judgment and all the better feelings of humanity.

One morning, leaving his wife and child at home, Wallingford went to Weston, remaining all day, during which time he frequented the tavern bar. Such visits to the saloon were of common occurrence from him and the people of that town thought nothing of it. Long after midnight he left Weston and started for home. It happened that some movers, consisting of a man and his wife and a number of children, on their way to Missouri, late that evening stopped and asked for shelter during the night. Mrs. Wallingford gave them permission to pass the night in the unused portion of the building. This they accepted gladly.

Wallingford, arriving home about midnight, insanely drunk and possessed with the demons of darkness, found his wife and baby in bed and perhaps asleep, murdered them in a most brutal way. Finding out in some way that the movers occupied the other end of the building, dragged his wife from the bed and trampled her to death on the floor. He then took the baby, threw it in the fire and left the house. The movers hearing cries rushed into the room, but too late to save the lives of the wife or child.

Quickly notifying the neighbors, a warrant was issued for the arrest of Wallingford, and by daylight Sheriff M. H. Haynes and one or two deputies were out searching for him. They went to the scene of the tragedy, but Wallingford was nowhere about the place. Following what they took to be his foot prints, they came to a woods and later searching for some time they found Wallingford on a pile of rails asleep. They arrested him and told him he was charged with the murder of his wife and child. He appeared unmoved and told the officials he knew nothing about the crime.

The sheriff took the prisoner to Marion and turned him over to the custody of Jailor John H. Huff. The jail was a log structure, two stories high. The walls of the building were of three thickness. The inner and outer walls were built of large logs lying horizontally, while between these two walls was another wall made of logs equally as large standing upright. There was no chimney or flue and no means of heating the building.

There was no local newspaper in Marion at that time and no telephone lines traversed the county from one end to the other, yet the news of the crime spread, much excitement prevailed and for a time such visitors were feared.

Camels leave no unpleasant ciga-retty aftertaste nor unpleasant
cigaretty odor!

You'll prefer Camels blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Camels are sold everywhere in quantities of 10 cigarettes in the package. They are sold in a glass container and under the strength of the brand. The brand is sold in the United States and in other countries.

Camel
CIGARETTES

Never Fails - Never permits
waste of baking materials

It is the most economical of all leaveners. It gives moderate
-you save when you buy it.

It has more than the ordinary leavening strength - you use less and save when you use it.

It never fails. There is no loss of baking ingredients.

So, don't guess at Baking Powder
value any longer. Measure it by results.

The truly smooth, fluffy, delectable get it. Use only plain wheat flour and pure baking soda. No more cur-dles. No more (perishable) adulterated baking powder. Buy Calumet the purest.
